Essay Question: Explain the extent to which you have a long-term interest in Ireland and how will you promote links with Ireland during your time as a GOI-IES Scholar and following your studies, as GOI-IES Alumni? (15 marks) MAX 500 WORDS *

It is only after exhaustive research that I have chosen Ireland for my academic research. Ireland is an emerging location to study and work, with tremendous growth opportunities and an education system that is world-class and constantly evolving to stay ahead in the globally competitive market.

I am most impressed with the fact that 24 of the world's leading Pharma and Biotech companies are based out of Ireland making it imperative for me to have long term relationships with the country owing to my acute interest in Clinical Research and PharmaCovigilance.

Ireland offers me a unique education and practicum opportunity where I can delve profoundly into the pharmaceutical domain under the purview of clinical research amid a top-class lab & research infra and simultaneously experience a quality education in a developed world setting. To this interest, I am bound to interact with multiple labs and research programs in Ireland for an aggressive exchange of ideas and information.

Research in itself a collaborative endeavour. The information and research are constantly updating and keeping abreast with the latest knowledge trends are imperial. Therefore, I will be seeking to do internship programs in Ireland to aggrandise my clinical research skills such as HRB-CRFG and to better acquaint myself with the practical working and conduct of clinical trials. This will prepare me suitably for the real-life setting of clinical research and associated activities.

Post my education and during it, I will be mindful of gathering friendships based on mutual respect and experiences that I will cherish for life. With nobility and vehemence, I seek to develop an intelligence network with my tutors, peers and predecessors at the University of Ireland, Galway that serves as a universal knowledge bank for participants and a coveted venue to share information and ideation.

The GOI-IES Scholarship will add significant weightage to the acceptance of my ideas, my candidacy as a researcher while allowing me research sans monetary woes or related interference. I, therefore, solicit my earnest application to avail the reward to which I am deserving, of need and superlatively committed to delivering luminous academic outputs off it.
